

1. Mucus is not usually found in the urine of healthy animals but it is a normal constituent of this animal's urine:
2. Indicate one fact (reason) that makes the domestic cat an obligate carnivore:
3. When cattle have Hardware Disease, sharp metal objects collect in the _____.
4. Many animals feed on both animal and vegetable material – they are termed _____.
5. The liver can make glucose from certain precursor amino acids. This process is termed:
6. This molecule is a world-famous antagonist of progesterone.
7. Describe the location of the alimentary tract in the pregnant ewe.
8. In the world of Immunology, what organ houses Kupffer cells?
9. Name the 3 accessory digestive organs:
10. Name the cardiac hormone that acts as a diuretic:
11. The prefix mal- has this meaning:
12. This general disorder in horses always includes abdominal pain:
13. When a cow has bloat, a trocar may be inserted into this region of the body:
14. In horses, when the mandible is shorter than the maxilla, this term is given to the condition:
15. This technical name is given to canine bloat: